The Challenge

The Help America Vote Act continues to challenge jurisdictions in ways that most have never before encountered. From the logistical problems of voter education to the technical and political issues of voting system implementation, states and local jurisdictions have a host of new concerns and time is running out.

The January 1, 2006 deadline for compliance is rapidly approaching, and many states are still in the preliminary stages of implementation. The requirement to bring hardware, software, procedures and most importantly, people in line with Federal law is a daunting task. There will literally be hundreds of steps to perform and countless decisions to be made to successfully traverse the path to a compliant status. Few states have the necessary resources to manage the design and implementation of election technology to meet the need for statewide requirements. Unfortunately, even fewer vendors are truly qualified to assist them.

The professionals of Maxim Consulting have the expertise required to ensure you stay on track in your new journey. We are a company dedicated to providing the highest quality professional services in the field of automated election management systems. Few entities can boast the experience in Statewide Election Management Systems that Maxim Consulting can with over 30,000 hours of direct experience. We are currently offering assistance to states in the following areas:

- Requirements Determination
- RFP Creation
- Feasibility Studies
- Custom Voter List Development
- Systems Integration
- Quality Assurance

Voting System Consulting

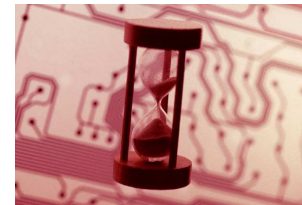

Maxim Consulting is not affiliated in any way with a manufacturer or marketer of any voting system and is therefore able to present an unbiased assessment. We recently assisted North Dakota in the creation of their RFP used to procure a statewide voting system contract. We can assist your staff from the pre-purchase preliminaries all the way through acceptance testing and production. Ask us about our experience in the support of voting systems and why no other independent firm can match it.

Statewide Voter List

The required statewide, centralized voter list is a sticking point for many jurisdictions at the moment. We have significant experience in statewide voter registration functions derived from years of developing voter registration applications for Oklahoma. We can act as a quality assurance manager for those states purchasing packaged applications or provide a turnkey solution for states with custom requirements.

Qualified and Experienced

Maxim Consulting has also enlisted the services of Lance Ward. Lance led the Oklahoma State Election Board through the procurement and successful installation of its statewide, comprehensive election system. He was also instrumental nationally in the effort to develop recommendations for Election Reform following the 2000 Presidential Election. With his addition, Maxim Consulting is uniquely qualified to assist your state in reaching the goals set down by HAVA from the topmost political quandary to the most detailed technical issue.
